A CONFESSION

Hopes Her Statement, Made Public, will Help Other Women.

Hines, Ala.—"I must confess," says Mrs. Eula Mae Reid, of this place, "that Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done me a great deal of good."

Before I commenced using Cardui, I would spit up everything I ate. I had a tired, sleepy feeling all the time, and was irregular. I could hardly drag around, and would have severe headaches continuously.

Since taking Cardui, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to digest all right, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight.

If you are a victim of any of the numerous ills so common to your sex, it is wrong to suffer.

For half a century, Cardui has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients which act specifically on the womanly constitution, and helps build the weakened organs back to health and strength.

Cardui has helped others, and will help you, too. Get a bottle today. You won't regret it. Your druggist sells it.

Write to: Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions on your case, and for a free booklet, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper. No. 120

Back from Butte.

Harry K. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell, has returned from Butte, Montana, after an absence of one year. Chaotic conditions continue in labor circles in that region, he states, as a result of which all the big mines are closed down.

To the Coast.

R. H. Burmister left yesterday for San Francisco where he will be joined later by his wife and daughter, Mrs. C. C. Glass, who are returning from Bangor, Maine, and are en route to Vancouver Barracks, where Lieut. Glass is to join his regiment in the army. Mr. and Mrs. Burmister will return to Prescott in October.

CRAWFORD COMES NOBLY TO THE RESCUE

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Coaches Hart and Merritt will put their high school squad gridiron warriors through a series of driving practice sessions during the present week, and next Saturday Football Baron Chester Crawford, of Jerome, will invade this little old burg with a picked team of huskies from that mining town. Crawford isn't saying very much, but the way in which he smiles every time he discusses the subject has convinced Hart and Merritt that they must round all their players into mid-season form if they're going to do away with that crowd over the mountains.

Crawford may shand the Prescottians a double-cross, and then, again, his prospective bunch of whirlwinds may turn out to be nothing more or less than an alarm of fire with a cloudburst overhead, but just the same Chester deserves great credit for coming to his alma mater's aid in such laudable style.

It is not a case of "sour grapes" when the writer, or for that matter anyone else acquainted with local football conditions, contends that Prescott's poor showing last year was due alone to lack of good, hard, stone-wall practice. Imagine a husky crowd of fellows like Penn, Thompson, Lowry and Bell ramming through a lot of eighth-grade kids! Fine practice—that! And the result was that while the Prescott team felt like a whirlwind at home, it couldn't make good down at Phoenix against a team veteranized by weeks of good, hard, constant plugging against a splendid second team and other classy scrub aggregations.

However, no one knew the situation better than Chester. Consequently, when he dropped into Prescott two weeks ago he immediately agreed to get a team to meet the Prescott boys.

And Prescott will return the compliment on the following Saturday by going to Jerome, for a second game. If these games prove of any calibre at all at least two other tussles may be arranged. By this time the form of the locals will have developed to a stage where they can be better judged as the coming contestants with Phoenix.

The exact lineup of the local eleven is still a mystery. The backfield containing four veterans, Penn, Thompson, Levy and Bell, is the same as last year. Not a single position is positively filled on the line, however, with the exception of right end, which will again be held down by Miley Deming. Kong Yee, who was given a place on the all-state team last year, and is only a junior this year, has failed to report for practice to date, and a big gap was torn in the line by graduation. "Dutch" Rief, the rushing center, will particularly be missed.

WOULD BE MOST THRILLING OF ALL SCENES

(From Sunday's Daily.)

The appearance yesterday on the Prescott streets of a Hupmobile racer assigned to the local Hup agents, Davis & Carrow, attracted no little interest and resulted in the forming of soap-bubble visions of speedy racers spinning through Prescott on the last lap of the Los Angeles-to-Phoenix endurance race next November.

Should the northern route be selected as official for the big annual classic, local auto boosters would be able to display a more than passing interest in all of the doings, because a local car would be entered in the biggest and longest race of its kind in the world.

It is not generally known that Prescott possesses a natural grand stand, one of the most remarkable in the world for witnessing a race such as the Los Angeles-Phoenix affair. "The general idea prevails in this city," intimated one booster who knows, "that all we'll get for our money is a glance at the fleeting racers going through. But we'll get more than this. You can bet your bottom nickel that on the morning the racers start from the local night control I'll be out bright and early perched on the side of the Copper Basin mountain, the natural grand stand, with a pair of glasses, and there will be many others in the same place.

MURPHY WINNER OF LOOP RACE IN BIG EVENT

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

It is reported that one of the strong contestants in the November auto races from Los Angeles to Phoenix, via Prescott, will be Stanley Murphy, whom it will be remembered was the winner of the loop race in this city on Frontier Day. Murphy drove his racer and made what was considered remarkable time, proving his ability as a driver under adverse road conditions. After the race he returned to the coast in his car traveling via Needles. His knowledge of the country will prove an advantage if he enters the big race, as he has made several trips between Prescott and Phoenix and is probably better acquainted with road conditions than any other of the many contestants who will enter. Murphy spends much of his time in Phoenix, and is a frequent visitor to this city, where he has relatives.

WOULD DESTROY LIFE AS WELL AS BURN

HOME OF MRS. JOHNSON SCENE OF HIGH-HAND AFFAIR BY DARING ROBBER

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Convincing evidence of a most heinous crime, attempted by a housebreaker, came to light yesterday. The would-be tragedy occurred Sunday night at the home of Mrs. J. H. Johnson, on North Montezuma street, when the intruder seemed to have been bent on taking human life and burning the building. The discovery was not made until the following morning, however, when considerable personal property was missing and the parlor room was found to have been damaged with other mute evidence of an incendiary having entered. Statements made by Mrs. Johnson and her daughter leave but little doubt of the crime contemplated. The carpet was cut in several places, a liquid sprinkled on the floor, and many matches burned with the evident intent of starting a blaze. All wearing apparel and other property was taken by the robber.

It is the belief that the home was entered through the front door and the robber was equipped with keys for that purpose. It was either at a late hour Sunday night or early Monday morning. None of the occupants knew of the affair until they arose later.

FATAL AFFLICTION.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

O. McNeely, who was brought to Mercy hospital from Congress Junction Friday afternoon in the last stages of consumption, passed away Saturday morning. A sister was with him when the end came, and she will take the remains to Missouri for burial. The body is at Ruffner's to be prepared for shipment today, probably. The deceased came from Southern California a few
